In his article, Timothy Wilson argues that psychology has much to contribute to society. Lilienfeld, Haidt, and the NYTimes article on Fraud, on the other hand, discuss several criticisms of the field. Based on class discussion, NY Times Op-Ed and the individual articles by Wilson, Haidt, and Lilienfeld, please write a 3-5 page, double-spaced essay, in which you answer the following questions:

- Summarize the points made in each article

- Does Wilson’s article specifically address any of the criticisms discussed in the Lilienfeld article? If so, make sure to specify how.

- Is the experimental method fool-proof? That is, what can happen to produce false outcomes, even if the method is used? (Hint- What do Haidt and the NY Times Op-ed warn against.) How might these problems be minimized?

In your answer, please be sure to support your statements with specific examples from the articles, citing the appropriate material assigned.
